

FIRE DEPARTMENT
SANTA CLARA COUNTY

BATTALION CHIEF

DEFINITION

This is the first administrative level in the classified service. Battalion Chiefs are primarily responsible for the coordination of activities during an assigned shift. An incumbent in this classification must exercise appropriate judgment and discretion. Responsibilities include, but are not limited to, managing fire suppression operations and emergency scenarios, planning department-wide activities, functions, and programs (e.g. resources allocation and budgets), and coordinating Department-wide personnel for the purposes of community service and fire protection activities. In addition, Battalion Chiefs are responsible for the personnel within their battalion. As such, Battalion Chiefs oversee safety and training, resolve conflicts between shifts or stations, and provide for any necessary disciplinary actions.

Work is performed under general direction of the Deputy Chief of Operations and incumbents may temporarily assume the functions of higher administrative-level classifications.

At the discretion of the Fire Chief, incumbents may be assigned to 56-hour (Operations) or 40-hour (Administrative) schedules.

This classification is a Fair Labor Standards Act exempt, represented position in the Classified Service.

DISTINGUISHING CHARACTERISTICS

Positions in this class are distinguished from those in higher administrative classes in that the latter have policy-making responsibilities and, in addition, have overall responsibility for at least one primary Department division.

EXAMPLES OF DUTIES

Depending upon assignment, duties may include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Plan, direct, and coordinate the staffing and activities of all fire suppression personnel on an assigned shift or personnel assigned to the other fire services. Communicate and consult as necessary with subordinate officers regarding the activities of their units.
- Respond to fire and other emergency alarms, allocate appropriate personnel, resources and equipment, supervise fire control work unless relieved by a superior officer, and provide overall coordination, direction and detailed instruction to subordinate personnel.
- Assist in the work of extinguishing fires and in the performance of related lifesaving and property protection work as needed.

EXAMPLES OF DUTIES (continued)

- Manage and oversee the safety of fire personnel and citizens.
- Periodically inspect personnel, equipment, and facilities on an assigned shift.
- Maintain discipline, assure that rules are observed, and make recommendations or take action on personnel matters, including administering disciplinary action.
- Assist in the development of assigned responsibility area budget.
- Effectively plan, direct, and coordinate assigned program(s).
- Provide for the training of personnel at both individual and company-wide levels; provide appropriate feedback and guidance to personnel; attend training sessions and conferences.
- Study and become familiar with the Department's jurisdictions, e.g. streets, intersections, fire hydrants, water mains, and sprinkler systems.
- Confer with superior officers on policy and procedural matters.
- Maintain records, prepare, review and edit reports, and make public and/or committee presentations.
- Undertake or assist with special projects, reports, and studies.
- Maintain liaison with officials of neighboring fire departments and districts.
- Represent the Department on various inter-agency committees and community interaction.
- May assume on-call duty on a rotating basis.
- May temporarily assume the duties of higher administrative-level classifications.
